An excerpt from WorBro Phil Austin: Brethren all, for the first time to my knowledge UGLQ will be offering a commemorative pin to mark our upcoming Grand Installation. The cost of the pin will be $10 (plus postage for those not purchased in person) with all proceeds going to the charity of choice of Mrs Townson, which is yet to be announced.

A further announcement will be made when the pins arrive, but I will obviously take advanced expressions of interest to:

aquarius2014@optusnet.com.au .

The pins will also be available for sale at the next Quarterly Communications as well as "on the day". Some kind brethren have already put their hand up to assist in the sale of the pins and I would be happy to hear from any Brother wishing to do the same.

FREEMASONS IN THE COMMUNITY

Cancer Council Rally: On 7 May 2016 Bro Thomas Buckley (Christensen) from Lamington Lodge 110 and Bro Luke Roberts from Northgate Remembrance Lodge 285 will take part in a rally to raise money for the Cancer Council. Their car (worth less than $1000) will drive from Mackay to Hobart, all whilst raising money for a great cause. Their goal is to raise $10,000 to support those diagnosed with cancer.

They already have their vehicle, an old Ford Outback utility dubbed "The Beast". Their team name tips it's hat to their Masonic ties - they are known as "The Stonecutters".

If you would like to support them, their donation page is located here.

Alternatively, you can donate via BPay with biller code: 30643 and reference number: 1048 8567.

We hope you all wish them well on this awesome adventure for a very deserving cause.

Curioso

ARE THE ODD FELLOWS PART OF FREEMASONRY? By Todd E. Creason, 33°

"In 18th century England, it was odd to find people organized for the purpose of giving aid to those in need and of pursuing projects for the benefit of all mankind. Those who belonged to such an organization were called 'Odd Fellows.'"

I get the question a lot. Believe it or not, the Independent Order of Odd Fellows (I.O.O.F.) is not affiliated with or an appendant body of Freemasonry. However, it is pretty obvious that the two Fraternities are very similar in both the symbolism they use, the values they share, and in the way they began. Both Fraternities use many of the same symbols--the "All Seeing Eye," the sun and moon, the Holy Bible, and the beehive are of a few of many symbols used by both Fraternities. Freemasons will readily recognize nearly all of the symbols on the Odd Fellows chart below. They also have an initiation and degree system much like Masonry, and use aprons as part of their regalia.

- <http://goo.gl/Ya RPeq>

- <https://goo.gl/p8Jank>

Another cause of confusion is because throughout history, many Freemasons have also been Odd Fellows. Famous Freemasons like Winston Churchill, William McKinley, Franklin Roosevelt, Red Skelton, and Chief Justice Earl Warren were also members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. In fact, one of the best known Masons, Albert Pike, was an Odd Fellow! It has been so common that you'll find the Freemason Square and Compass, and the Odd Fellows' three links used together often in Fraternal jewelry and elsewhere--I have an example of a joint Freemasonry/Odd Fellows lapel pin in my collection, and have often seen the symbols used together on grave stones of men who were members of both Fraternities as in the example below.

Much like Freemasonry, the Odd Fellows claim their roots go back to the trade guilds in the 12th and 13th centuries. They are a values based organization like Freemasonry with a desire to help men improve themselves, but while Freemasonry's main objective is to "make good men better" the emphasis of the Odd Fellows is in contributing to charitable works and providing aid and assistance. The three chain links of their symbol represent Friendship, Love and Truth.

While the similarities between the two fraternities are obvious, they are very different organizations. The Odd Fellows was the first Fraternity in the United States open to both men and women. They were also the first to build homes for their senior members and for orphaned children.

There is a common misconception that the Odd Fellows is a copy of Freemasonry. Many fraternities have borrowed heavily from the rituals and traditions of Freemasonry, and there are a lot of comparisons that could be made between Freemasonry and the Odd Fellows. Maybe the Odd Fellows borrowed from the Freemasons, or perhaps the two organization evolved their rituals and traditions along similar lines because they share a common history going back to the trade guilds. Or maybe it is because so many of their members throughout history have belonged to both organizations.

Whatever the truth may be, both Fraternities have done remarkable work in making good men better and the world a better place in which to live. In fact, there has always existed a mutual respect between the two Fraternities, which is why so many Freemasons have become Odd Fellows, and so many Odd Fellows belong to Masonic Lodges.
